REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

To the Members of the School Board,

Enfield, N. H.

GENTLEMEN:

The past year has been marked by improvements in our schools of which our citizens may well be proud.

The great enlargement and improvement in our village school building and the reorganization of the schools housed in it, which the increased size of the building has made possible, have been measures of progress by which the district will benefit for years to come. For the first time in a number of years it can be said that there is ample room provided for all our children now in school and room for further growth in size.

With the beginning of the present school year definite steps were taken towards organizing a high school course of six years by seating the seventh and eighth grades in the high school room and having their classes taught by the several high school teachers.

Elementary French was offered to members of these grades and their entire mathematics course was reorganized.

The whole lower floor of the new building is given up to the grades. There are six rooms only five of which are occupied this year. Already the room occupied by the fifth and sixth grades combined is over crowded and it is probable these grades will have to be separated next year. In this case each grade from the first to the sixth, comprising what is known as the elementary school, will be by itself and have its own teacher.

Justice cannot be done our new building in this brief report. It can truly be called one of the best buildings in the state for a town of the size and far surpasses in excellence the school buildings of many towns of much larger size. It can only be appreciated by seeing it while the schools are in session and it is earnestly hoped that all our townspeople will visit it at some time during the year.

Music has been added this year to the course of study of the village schools and under Miss Mary E. Ellinwood is making rapid progress. Miss Ellinwood received her training at Wellesley College and at the summer Institute of Music pedagogy at Northampton. An orchestra has been organized among the high school students which is doing really fine work. A lesson in music is given each day in the elementary schools and twice a week in the high school. Miss Ellinwood also teaches Latin in the High School.

Our staff of teachers numbers this year many of our old teachers of last year. We have possibly the most efficient staff as a whole that we have had in many years. It may be that the improved conditions under which our teachers are working accounts for some of the excellence in instruction, but we have great faith in the ability of the teachers themselves and give them great credit for the progress which is being made.

It will be remembered that in last year's report mention was made of a considerable reduction in tardiness accomplished by the positive insistence by the teachers and school authorities that tardiness was unnecessary and was a disgrace to a good school system. During the year last reported on a reduction was made in tardy marks in the registers from one-half. During the present school year so far as it has gone a further reduction has been made and a comparative table is given here expressed in the average tardiness per pupil which is the fairest comparison:

SCHOOL	Number of Tardiness Per Pupil to
	Feb. 1924	Feb. 1925
High	1.3	.8
Grade 8
Grade 7
Grade 6	1	1.15
Grade 5	.95	1.1
Grade 4	.5	.33
Grade 3	1.6	.9
Grade 2	1	.64
Grade 1	1.25	1.06

If it were not for one pupil in Grade I. who was responsible for 15 tardinesses out of 34 the record of this grade would be reduced to .6 per pupil; if it were not for one pupil in the third grade who was responsible for 13 tardy marks out of 29 the record of this grade would be reduced to .5 per pupil; two pupils in the seventh grade have caused a record of 29 tardy marks out of a total of 34 for the whole grade—otherwise the tardiness record of this grade would stand .2 per pupil; one pupil in the eighth grade is responsible for 5 tardinesses out of a total of 7 for the whole grade making the record of this grade .47 per pupil instead of .13 which it should have been. Thus out of a total of 205 tardinesses scattered among 227 pupils 4 pupils or less than 2 per cent. are responsible for more than 62 or more than 30 per cent. of the tardinesses. This shows an excellent record for 98 per cent. of our pupils in the village school.

Special mention ought for several reasons to be made of the schools at Enfield Center and George Hill. We do not forget our remote schools although we cannot keep in close touch with them.

The first reason for mentioning them is the uniformly excellent work that is being done in them, without friction or show, but so steadily and painstakingly that they count among our very best groups of pupils in town. Some of our best pupils are being taught in these schools, pupils whose record and ability, were they made public, would be rather astonishing to most people.

These schools have been organized under a firm and steady discipline under which the pupils never chafe and yet which make them three of the most orderly and courteous rooms in the town and very pleasurable to visit.

They have an excellent record for attendance and punctuality and the communities in which they are situated never complain about them which is a good sign of their effectiveness.

A second reason why attention should be called to Enfield Center school is that there is a class of six pupils preparing to graduate there who form one of the best classes in respect to their standard of work that has been sent out in recent years. They are: Alice and Lucy Judd, Janis Chase, Lewis Peaslee, Paul Larmie and Florence Gault. These pupils would probably enter our high school if it were possible for them to get back and forth from the village but who may not enjoy advantages of a high school education unless the school district takes steps to assist them to reach high school by furnishing conveyance. It would seem as if it were reasonable for the school district to make the high school free and accessible to pupils at the Center and beyond by providing a means of conveyance for them. It might be unreasonable for the district to go to the expense of providing transportation to high school of one or two pupils but when the number of children who wish to take advantage of high school numbers seven or eight or more, as it will in a year or two, the district may well consider ways and means of furnishing some transportation. In this connection appreciative mention should be made of one young lady who for two years has regularly attended this high school from a distance of six miles, sometimes on a bicycle, some times on horseback, through winter days, bitter as New Hampshire's winter days can be, under conditions of travel which would discourage most girls. Miss Evelyn Hedstrom could well profit by some comfortable conveyance from the Center.

Attached to this report is the report of the school nurse. For the first time this year the union of towns has had the services of a resident school nurse for eighteen weeks, or one half the school year. During this time Miss Elizabeth H. McCauley, has served the districts of Enfield, Canaan and Orange faithfully and well. Pursuing her business under no small difficulties of transportation to the furthest borders of the towns she has made home to home visits in the interests of children's health; she has inspected schools, rural as well as village; she has established dental clinics for the care of the children's teeth at about half of the regular price; and has done many unpleasant errands for school interests without hesitation. All her salary and expenses are paid by the State without cost of a penny to the districts but it is hoped that when we get accustomed to the idea of school health supervision we may bestir ourselves to employ a resident nurse all the year round by contributing toward that end from the district coffers in addition to the help furnished by the State.

In concluding this report let me thank the School Board, teachers and citizens for their continued enthusiastic support of the schools and their devotion to the cause of school progress.

Respectfully submitted

H. H. PRATT.

HEADMASTER'S REPORT

Enfield High School

To Mr. H. H. Pratt, Superintendent of Schools:

Foremost in my mind at this time is the marked appreciation of both teachers and pupils for the new building, its equipment and the increased efficiency which these improvements have made possible.

The introduction of supervised music as a regular part of the High School work was enthusiastically received by the pupils. Their whole-hearted response and cooperation, coupled with the able instruction and leadership provided for them this year, has yielded most gratifying results.

The reorganization of the Seventh and Eighth Grades is working out satisfactorially in matters of discipline, scholarship and general preparation.

The spirit of loyalty and cooperation among teachers and pupils noted in last year's report is still prominent.

Respectfully submitted,

W. J. LAMPLOUGH,

Headmaster.

REPORT OF SCHOOL NURSE

To Mr. H. H. Pratt,
Superintendent of Schools,
Enfield, N. H.,

Following is a resume of health supervision including inspections of children, follow-up work and clinics:

Number of children inspected	319
Defects found:
Defective teeth	198
Enlarged tonsils	152
Adenoids	3
Enlarged cervical glands	82
Malnutrition (10 per cent underweight)	71
Defective vision	22
Unvaccinated	43
Poor posture	7
Skin disease	10
Goiter	5
Pediculosis (head lice)	15
Defective hearing	12
Orthopedia	3

Notice of defects were sent to parents, and sixty-eight (68) home visits made, follow-up work in the homes being one of the most important features of public health nursing.

To accomplish results in the short time given to health work in small towns, it is necessary to concentrate on those defects which are most common, and of greatest importance from health aspect.

Where no organized health work is carried on, about 90 per cent. of the children need dental attention. Mouth cleanliness not only prevents dental disease, but proves to be a most valuable insurance for general health.

Dr. Goodwin set aside one day a week for dental work with the children, giving them a special rate of about one half his regular charge.

The following work was done:

Number children treated	36
Prophylaxis	30
Amalgam fillings	95
Porcelain fillings	14
Extractions (temporary)	40
Extractions (permanent)	1
Cement fillings	1
<hr/>
Total number of operations	181
Cost per operation	.49

The large number of tonsils checked is due to the fact that school nursing is preventive work and is a reminder to parents to more carefully watch throat conditions.

One of the most important defects to be corrected is that of vision. Conservation of eyesight is of vital importance, and any abnormal eye condition should have proper treatment. Many children are handicapped all through life because of the neglect of parents to recognize the importance of correcting eye defects.

Another important problem that up-to-date medical men have to meet today is a disease called goiter. The time to treat this affection is in the early stages.

Heart and lung examinations are not made by a school nurse, therefore, a clinic was planned, making it possible for any child or adult to have a free chest examination. On Nov. 25 Dr. Robert Kerr, examining physician for the N. H. T. B. Association, examined thirteen patients, findings as follows:

(Adult)	Incipient tuberculosis (old case improved)	1
	Condition suggestive of sairona	1
(Children)	Chronic bronchitis	3
	Tonsils and adenoids recommended for operation	3
	Other cases negative

This clinic was very small owing to the fact that so many in Canaan wished to be examined, and Dr. Kerr was unable to keep his appointment in Enfield on time, however several suspicious cases have been reported to Miss Clough, County tuberculosis nurse, and clinics are available in Lebanon once in two months.

The Modern Health Crusade started in all schools is a system of teaching good health habits, and is a great link between home and school in health work.

The slogan of the survival of the fittest has given way to a new ideal, that of fitting as many as possible to survive.

Respectfully submitted,

Elizabeth H. McCauley, R. N.
